A Suggestion for Saving

CASH in the pocket encourages careless spending. You will find it much easier to save if you keep your "Spending" money in a Savings Account with The Bank of Toronto. There it is safe and can be drawn upon when really needed.

A reluctance to draw from that account will grow upon you, and protect you from many needless expenditures.

Once the saving habit is acquired, the account, with its earnings of interest, will steadily grow to a substantial amount.

Many young men and women are working on this plan to advantage. We invite you to try it by opening a Savings Account to-day.

LOCAL NEWS

If it was not for the forthcoming provincial elections, the little stirring-up which it produces, this town would get asleep by now. Where are all the sports? Some say that Arthur is keeping them out of town. But it is not these kind of sports we have in mind. The real sports, where are they? Those who play football or baseball. The Tennis Court seem to be more in vogue this year than ever before, but they don't make much noise.

The last meeting held by the ratepayers to discuss the lighting proposition has so far not produced any results. We will come back another day on "How our public meetings are held," but in the meantime, we feel rather sorry to mention that "Bucking" might be a nice passe-time when on her back, but in public matters it kills. There are a few of the greatest importance for the making of this town, amongst which light and fire protection are two outstanding necessities.

In the programme which will be presented at the 1921 Calgary Exhibition, to be held June 30 to July 8, the management considers it has the highest class and most entertaining features that have ever been secured for the Calgary Exhibition.

In regard to the next Provincial elections, enthusiasm seem to be 40 below zero. The discussions seem to be one-sided, as nobody here has anything to say against the Stewart government.

"Marriage certainly changes a man," said she. "Take my husband—he used to offer me a nickel for my thoughts and now he offers me $5 to shut up."

Mr E. A. Shoebottom, representing the Independent Order Foresters, is a visitor to our town and is assisting the local officials of this order in their recruiting campaign. A meeting of Carbon Court will be held next Saturday night.

Mr W. Watson had an accident with his car on his way from Drumheller to Carbon on Saturday night and was slightly hurt. Mrs Watson has left for Drumheller.

In going to press we hear that the wedding bells are ringing somewhere in Calgary in honour of one of our young couples: Miss Ethel Hay and Stanley Torrance, accompanied by Mr and Mrs Hay who left on Tuesday for Calgary. We hope to be able to give more details next week, but in the meantime we wish the new couple happiness and prosperity.

Who and What Are We?

Is there such a person as a Canadian?

The Government of Canada says there is not. According to the official records there is not one Canadian among the eight or nine million inhabitants of this Dominion. Neither the Premier of Canada, nor any one of the Premiers of the nine Provinces, is a Canadian. They may have been born in Canada, and their parents and grandparents before them, but that makes no difference—they are not Canadians. The Government of Canada says so, and has instructed its army of census officials to record the amazing fact.

Readers of the above may be skeptical of the truth of these assertions, but a little quiet inquiry and investigation on their part will soon establish the correctness of the statements made.

Commencing on June 1st the work of taking the decennial census of Canada was begun and enumerators began visiting the homes of the Dominion armed with official forms and pencil in hand asking questions of all and sundry as to their names, age, place of birth, nationality, etc. Coming to the question of nationality, a man or woman born in Canada, very naturally reply that they are Canadians. But Mr. Census-taker retorts that they are not. They may be anything else, but they most assuredly are not Canadians. When these patriotic sons or daughters of Canada insist they are Canadians, first, last and all the time, and nothing else, the faithful servant of the Government of Canada is forced to explain to them that there are no Canadians; the Government does not recognize them at all in the official tabulation of the nationality of the residents of the Dominion.

Mr. Census-taker will then ask: "Where was your father born?" "In Canada," comes the reply. "Where was your mother born?" Again the answer is, "In Canada." "Well, they are not Canadians either," is the dictum. And then Mr. Census-taker will explain that Canada is not a nation and, therefore, there can be no Canadian nationality. He may then ask: "Were your grandparents, or possibly your great-grandparents, Irish?" The ordinary Canadian resident may retort: "What has that got to do with it, Ireland is not a nation. It is even less a nation than Canada. Canada enjoys not only full self-government, but it is a member of the League of Nations on a basis of entire equality with all other nations, which Ireland is not."

The logical force of such an answer is, however, entirely lost upon the Government of Canada. Residents of this Dominion may be classified as Irish, or Scotch, or Welsh, or Hottentot, or Chinese, or Turks—anything almost but Canadian, even though it is necessary to go back prior to the days of Jacques Cartier to find out some remote ancestor born outside the boundaries of the Dominion in order to fix some nationality upon native-born Canadians.

This is not a far-fetched description, because the writer has personal knowledge of an instance where a Canadian-born citizen informed the census enumerator that he had no knowledge of any ancestors but those whose place of birth was Canada, and who was, therefore, recorded by the enumerator as "Nationality unknown."

Yet our politicians and statesmen boast of Canada as a nation. In rounded periods and with great eloquence they dwell upon this Dominion's place among the nations, and the prominent part it plays in the councils of the League of Nations. On all sides exhortations are heard of our duty to Canadianize our new settlers from "foreign" lands. The Canadianizing of all peoples within our bounds is urged as a foremost Canadian duty and responsibility. Yet when the children of these "New Canadians" proudly say: "I am a Canadian," the Government of Canada officially tells them they are mistaken; they are Germans, or Russians, or Poles, or Austrians, or Italians, but they are not Canadians and never can be, nor can their children or children's children ever be throughout the ages yet to come.

Pick up the official census returns for all past decades and see if you can find that there is a Canadian living in Canada.

Is it not high time that this obsolete, antiquated classification of by-gone years be discarded? Has the time not come when a person born in Canada has a right to be classified as a Canadian and not be compelled to accept official designation of some other nationality which he will never accept for himself personally?

What is the sense of preaching Canadianism and seeking to create and develop a Canadian national sentiment, Canadian art, Canadian literature, a true and lasting pride in Canada and Canadian institutions, if for all time the world is to be officially informed through the publications of the Canadian Government that such a person as a Canadian is non-existent, that this Dominion is still an infant colony of little or no importance inhabited for the time being by English, Scotch, Irish, Welsh, American, German, Austrian, Russian and other peoples?

Canada talking of having its own Minister at Washington, sitting in the councils of the League of Nations, taking its full part in the Great World War, and yet denying to its own native-born sons and daughters the right to the name Canadian presents an anomaly that should be removed. The Ottawa Government had better bestir itself and place itself and the official records of this Dominion in line with real Canadian sentiment and aspirations.

Of Some Use.

Short skirts are coming in for much condemnation at church conferences, but it has remained for Chicago to report that short skirts have caused a much smaller street accident record among women and a much larger one among men. ### Alberta "Baby" Industry Growing.

One of Alberta's "baby" industries, the Alberta Clay Products Company, has been making a very successful showing. ## Mrs. Doyle Forced To Live Entirely On Bread And Milk She Declares

"I think it is enough to make anyone happy to enjoy the splendid health I do now," said Mrs. John Doyle, 123 John St., North, Hamilton, Ont.

"Last winter I had the 'flu' and, as I had been in a badly rundown condition for several years, it just seemed to wreck my whole system. All through the winter I was down in bed half the time and instead of getting better, I seemed to get worse. My stomach was so badly upset that I had to live entirely on bread and milk. If I ventured to eat anything else at all I would simply suffer agony."

"I would have terrible pains in my stomach and would bloat up so bad that I often felt as if I was suffocating."

My nerves were worn to a frazzle and I had frequent headaches. I went to bed tired, got up feeling tired and all through the day hardly had the strength to do a thing.

"But I'm so glad I tried Tanlac, because my suffering is all over now. I just feel splendid, eat whatever I wish and never have a touch of indigestion. My nerves are steady and I am free from headaches. I sleep perfectly sound and just feel so much stronger that the housework seems easier than ever. My daughter has taken Tanlac since it restored my health and it has helped her just like it did me. Tanlac has certainly been a blessing in our home."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

The Homesteaders

— BY —
ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Published By Special Arrangement With the Author.

Prelude.

Six little slates clattered into place, and six little figures stood erect between their benches.

"Right! Turn!" said the master. "March! School dismissed!" and six pairs of bare little legs twinkled along the aisle, across the well-worn threshold, down the big stone step, and into the dusty road, warm with the rays of the Indian summer sun.

The master watched them from the open window until they vanished behind a ridge of beech trees that cut his vision from the concession. While they remained within sight a smile played upon the features of his strong, sun-burned face, but as the little calico dress was swallowed by the wood the smile died down, and for a moment he stood, a grave and thoughtful statue framed within the white pine casings of the sash. His sober grey eyes stared unseeing into the forest, while the light wind that stirred the golden maple leaves toyed gently with his unruly locks.

His brown study lasted only a moment. With a quick movement he walked to the blackboard, caught up a section of sheepskin, and began erasing the symbols of the day's instructions.

"Well, I suppose there's reward in heaven," he said to himself, as he set the little schoolroom in order. "There isn't much here. The farmers will pay a man more to doctor their sick sheep than to teach their children. But, of course, they get both mutton and wool from a sheep. I won't stand it longer than the spring. If others can take the chance I can take it too. If it weren't for her I would go to-morrow."

The last remark seemed to unflick a new chain of thought. The grey eyes lit up again. He wielded the broom briskly for a minute, then tossed it in a corner, fastened the windows, slipped a little folder into his pocket, locked the door behind him, carefully placed the key under the stone step where the first child in the morning would find it, and swung in a rapid stride down a by-path leading from the little schoolhouse into the forest.

Ten minutes' quick walking in the woods, now glorious in all their autumn splendour, brought him to a point where the sky stood up, pale blue, evasive, through the trees. The next moment he was at the water's edge, and a limpid lake stretched away to where the forests of the farther shore mingled hazily with sky and water. The point where he stood was a little bay, ringed with water-worn stones, and hemmed around by the forest, except for one wedge of blue that broadened into the distance. He glanced about, as though expecting someone; he whistled a line of a popular song, but the only reply was from a saucy cavedropper which, perched on a near-by limb, trilled back its own liquid notes in answer.

"I may as well improve the moments consulting my chart," he remarked to his undulating imagine in the water. "This thing of embarking on two new seas at once calls for skillful piloting." He seated himself on a stone, drew from his pocket the folder, and spread a map before him.

In a few moments he was so engrossed that he did not hear the almost noiseless motion of a canoe as it thrust its brown nose into the blue wedge before him. The canoe slid with its own momentum gracefully through the quiet waters, suddenly revealing a picture for the heart of any artist. Kneeling near its stern, her paddle held aloft and dripping, her brown arms and browner hair glistening in the mellow sun, her face bright with the light of its own expectancy, was a little and beautiful girl. In an instant her eye located the young man on the bank, and her lips moulded as though to speak; but when she saw how unobserved she was she remained silent and upright as an Indian while the canoe slipped gently toward the shore. Presently it cushioned its nose in the velvety sand. She rose silently from her seat, and stole on moccasined tip-toes along the stones until she could have touched his hair with her fingers. But her eyes fell over his shoulder on the papers before him.

"Always at your studies," she cried, as he sprang eagerly to his feet. "You must be seeking a professorship. But I suppose you have to be always brushing up," she continued, banteringly. "Your oldest pupil must be let me see—not less than eight?"

He smothered her banter with his affection, but she stole the map from his fingers.

"I declare, if it isn't Manitoba! What next? Siberia or Patagonia? I thought you were still in the Eastern Townships."

"So I am—in school. But out of school I am spending a good deal of my time in Manitoba, Mary."

She caught a grave note in his voice as he said her name. Seizing his cheeks between her hands she turned his face to her. "Answer me, John Harris. You are not thinking of going to Manitoba?"

"Suppose I say I am?"

"Then I am going too!"

"Mary!"

"John! Nothing unusual about a wife going with her husband, is there?"

"No, of course, but you know—" "Yes, I know"—glancing at the ring on her finger. "This still stands at par, doesn't it?"

"Yes, dear," he answered, raising the ring to his lips. "You know it does. But to venture into that wilderness means—you see, it means so much more to a woman than to a man."

"Not as much as staying at home—alone. You really don't think I would do that?"

"No, not exactly that. Let us sit down and I will tell you what I thought. Here, let me get the cushion."

"There, that's better. Now let me start at the beginning. "Until you came here last summer—until all this happened, you know—I was quite satisfied to go on teaching."

"And I have sown discontent—" "Please don't interrupt. Teaching seemed as good as anything else."

"As good as anything else! Better than anything else, I should say. What is better than training the tender child, inspiring him with your ideals—"

"Oh, I know all about that. Until I began to have some genuine ideals of my own I was satisfied with it. But now—well, everything is different."

"I know," she answered. "The salary won't support two. There's the rub."

They sat for some minutes, gazing dreamily across the broad sheet of silver.

"And so you are going to Manitoba?" she said at length.

"Yes. There are possibilities there. It's a gamble, and that is why I didn't want to share it with you—at first. I thought I would spend a year; locate a homestead; get some kind of a house built; perhaps break some land. Then I would come back."

"And you weren't going to give me a word in all those preparations for our future? You have a lot to learn yet, John. You won't find it in that folder, either."

He laughed lightly—a happy, boyish laugh. For weeks the determination to seek his fortune in the then almost unknown Canadian West had been growing upon him, and as it grew he shrank more and more from disclosing his plans to his fiancée. Had she been one of the country girls of the neighborhood, a daughter of the sturdy backwoods pioneers, bred to hard work in field and barnyard, he would have hesitated less. But she was sprung from gentler stock. It seemed almost profane to think of her in the lonely life of a homesteader on the bleak, unsettled plains—to see her in the monotony and drudgery of the pioneer life. He had been steeling himself with arguments; fortressing his resolve, unconsciously, perhaps, with the picture of his own heroism in braving the unknown. And she had scaled every breastwork at a bound, and captured the citadel by the adroit diplomacy of apparent surrender.

She had snatched his confession at an unguarded moment. He had not meant to tell her so much—so soon. As he thought over the wheels he had set in motion their possible course staggered him, and he found himself arguing against the step he contemplated.

"It's a gamble," he repeated. "The agricultural possibilities of the country have not been established. It may be adapted only to buffalo and Indians. They say the Selkirk settlers have seen hardships compared with which Ontario pioneers lived in luxury. We may be far back from civilization, far from neighbors, or doctors, or churches, or any of those things which we take as a matter of course."

"Then you will need me with you, John, and I am going."

She could not mistake the look of admiration in his eyes. "Mary," he said, "you are a hero. I didn't think it was in you. I mean I—"

"A heroine, if you please," she corrected. "But I am not that—not the least bit. I want to go because—because to go with you, even to Manitoba, is not nearly so dreadful as to stay at home without you."

"But come," said the girl, springing lightly to her feet, "we have matters of great moment for immediate consideration."

He was at her heels. One hand resting on his strong arm sufficed to steady her firm body as she tip-toed over the stones. Somewhere in the canoe she found a parcel, wrapped in a white napkin. Under a friendly beech she laid her dainties before him.

In a crimson glory the sun had sunk behind the black forest across the lake. The silver waters had draped in mist their fringe of inverted trees along the shore, and lay, passive and breathing and very still, beneath the smooth-cutting canoe.

One by one the stars came out in the heavens, and one by one their doubles wavered and mimicked in the lake. A duller point of light bespoke a settler's cabin on the distant shore.

"And we shall build our own home, and live our own lives, and love each other—always—only, for ever and ever!" she breathed.

"For ever and ever," he answered.

A waterfowl cut the air in his sharp, whistling flight. The last white shimmer of daylight faded from the surface of the lake. The lovers floated on, gently, joyously, into their ocean of hope and happiness.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. ## Brilliant Scene Marks The Opening Of Ulster Parliament

King George Makes Plea For Peace Between Two Branches of Irish Race.

Belfast.—The opening of the Northern Parliament by the King, who was accompanied by Queen Mary, was carried out with all the pageantry and ceremony with which formal actions of British sovereigns are surrounded. The King himself wore the uniform of an admiral, with the blue sash of the Order of the Garter across his breast, while the Queen, who looked extremely pale and nervous, was in white satin, without any insignia of her rank. But a string of pearls was about her neck and large clusters of diamonds and emeralds shone from her collar and brooch.

A real modern note was struck by the King's speech, which he read in a strong, clear voice, emphasizing the points which he wished to impress on the audience. His plea for peace and conciliation between the two branches of the Irish race fell on welcome ears, for in no part of Ireland is peace more desired than in Ulster, where business has suffered greatly by the strife throughout the country and by the Sinn Fein boycott of Ulster goods.

During the delivery of the King's speech the whole audience remained standing, with eyes fixed on Their Majesties in golden chairs. Prior to this, prayers were said by the Primate of Ireland, Anglican, the Presbyterian moderator and the senior Methodist minister, thus all the religions represented in the Parliament were recognized.

The Nationalists and Sinn Feiners confined themselves to refraining from all participation in the ceremonies.

The King and Queen re-embarked on the royal yacht, receiving a noisy greeting from the shipyard workers.

The King conferred honors on a number of prominent Belfast men. Baron Pirrie was created a Viscount, and Lord Mayor Coates, a baronet. Robert Blair, managing director of the Belfast Telegraph and Trevor Henderson, director of the Belfast News, received knighthoods.

Denounces Handling Of Immigrants

Director of Protective Association Says System Is Wrong.

Ottawa.—Denunciation of the system of handling immigrants arriving in Canada was again made by Abbe Philippe Casgrain, director of the Immigration Protective Association here. The abbe cited instances where whole families have been deported and returned to the Old Country where they have no homes now to go to, and where they must start life again under worse conditions than ever, having wasted their savings in a useless and expensive voyage.

The abbe suggested that some way should be devised of officially examining immigrants in the Old Country.

Active Immigration Work Is Delayed

Settlers Will Not Be Brought In By Western Canada Colonization Association Until The Provinces Pass The Desired Land Listing Legislation. Preparatory Work Will Continue.

At a conference between the Eastern and Western Directors of the Western Canada Colonization Association it was decided that the successful functioning of the Association depends upon the working out of a joint land settlement plan under which the efforts of the Federal and Provincial Governments will be effectively co-ordinated. Nothing short of such a plan will afford this Association a real basis upon which to carry out the vital national undertaking for which it was created. It is felt that the organization would be unwise to expend a large amount of money in securing high-class settlers only to find the lands increased in price on their arrival. It is realized that all promises and statements made to intending settlers must be fully carried out.

Until these suggestions are given effect so that there will be a reasonable assurance of results in actual land settlement, the directors do not feel justified in authorizing the expenditure of privately subscribed money which would necessarily be involved in a first year's programme. The obligations of the Association to voluntary financial supporters of this movement are such that it must not spend funds generously donated until the pathway of effective colonization is reasonably clear.

In the interval which must elapse before the proposals can be put into effect the Association will continue to press for the co-ordination and legislation necessary, and endeavor to complete the full subscription list of $1,500,000. The directors hope that the Federal Government will be represented at a proposed conference of Western Premiers and that as a result a uniform plan will be put into operation which will solve the unoccupied land problem and enable the Association to get to work.

Before leaving for Vancouver the Managing Director, Major-General A. D. McRae, C.B., made a brief statement to the press, in the course of which he said:—

"I agree with the decision unanimously reached by the Eastern and Western Directors after the most serious consideration of all the circumstances. I am very proud of the splendid support which I have received from the members of the Board, particularly in regard to my land listing plan. In their view, as in mine, the legislation asked from the three Prairie Provinces is absolutely necessary to success. This or similar legislation must be put into effect before the unoccupied land problem is solved. The participation of the Federal Government is most essential. During the interval the association, of course, will have no need for the services of a Managing Director in charge of actual colonization work. Although retiring from my connection with the Association I have agreed to assist in pressing for the proposed legislation before the coming conference of Western Premiers. Knowing something of past immigration movements to the prairies I make bold to say that if given the proper basis to start on the Western Canada Colonization Association has within it the power to greatly assist the Governments in the colonization of our unoccupied lands."

Interest Shown In British Census

Statisticians Believe Population Has Grown Despite War Losses.

London.—Statisticians are looking forward with unusual interest to the returns of the British census and wondering what the war has really done to the British Isles. They believe the population has grown appreciably despite war losses, largely because emigration was checked by the war.

The first British census was taken in 1801 and has been repeated every ten years since then. This is, therefore, the thirteenth census of British Isles. Over 38,000 enumerators are engaged.

Settlers For B. C. Will Be Selected

Choicest Lands In Province Offered As Inducement.

Victoria.—Hand picked settlers are to be brought to British Columbia in large numbers to fill up the vacant lands in northern and central parts of the province, according to plans just completed by owners of large areas, it is stated. Most of the owners of these lands are in England.

Some of the choicest lands in British Columbia will be offered settlers, who will be given their choice of locating in the Bulkley or Nechako valleys, or in the Vanderhoof, Prince George and Lillooet districts.

Heart Weak, Nerves Shattered After the "Flu."

In a large majority of cases those who survived the last epidemic of Spanish influenza were left with weak hearts, shattered nerves, impoverished blood, and the whole system has been left in such a general weakened and exhausted condition that it has been impossible to get back your old health and strength.

If you are in this condition there is only one thing to do; take a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and see how quickly your heart will be strengthened, your nerves toned up and your blood enriched.

Mrs. W. W. Pearce, 14 Seaton St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was left with a weak heart and in a rundown condition from the 'flu.' My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains in my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I took one box I got relief; after taking six boxes have been well and not bothered since."

The furs were untouched, being wrapped up in canvas, but half of a beautiful cow buffalo robe and half a rabbit skin robe were eaten. Never mind, I was too pleased to see the dogs again, so rewarded the boy handsomely and returned to Fairford in great style next day, the dogs in as good a humor as myself; and then I promised never again would we admit a stranger to our ranks.

When Chief Factor Archie McDonald ordered me to take charge of the Fairford Post, his instructions were to complete the new master's house as soon as possible. Then I was to remove everything of value in the old fort and burn the buildings, which had been up for many years. I was rather curious to know the why and wherefore as to burning the place, so asked him his reason. "Oh," was his reply, "there are some fool stories current at Fairford as to them being haunted, for some bloody rows took place there in the old drinking days."

Well, I reached Fairford all right and took possession of the place. I put an extra man or two on the new building and after settling down began making a few cautious inquiries as to what shape (if any) the spooks were supposed to take. Very little satisfaction was given me, but I noted that Indians and the usual hangers on did not like to be near or in the post after dark.

This establishment was built in the usual way in the form of a quadrangle and surrounded with a wall of hewed timber, at one end of the square the master's house and on each side various store houses, while the front was shut with the wall and large gates. The native men's houses stood at some distance away outside the enclosure. I and my cook, a Lewis man named Malcolm, were the only occupants of the fort at night; not though the only ones, as I always had my four famous dogs, Herod, Nero, Moro and Hero, who, if anyone touched me, would have had a bad time of it, as they were exceedingly fierce if set on to any person or animal. I forgot to mention that a platform of heavy sawn planks ran all round the square and most of these were old and rotten so one had to be careful in stepping for they would tip up and come down with a bang.

One evening, when the place was all quiet, Malcolm came in from the kitchen and I saw by his embarrassed manner that there was something on his mind. "Well, sir, master," and that was as far as he could get. However, I encouraged him, and bit by bit the truth came out. He wanted to go and sleep in the men's houses, and on asking his reasons, he said he kept hearing noises at night and also felt things moving, though he could see nothing. He hated to go and leave me alone, but he could not sleep the way things were going on. I finally told him he could go, and after his departure made a careful inspection of the whole premises and saw that all gates were closed and barred. Then, calling my dogs into the hall, I overhauled an old shot gun and loaded it heavily with powder and plenty of wadding, as I thought some attempt might be made through the night to scare me off the premises.

My room was at the front of the house, the window overlooking the square. This I left partly raised but pulled down the blind. Then, placing the gun handy, I blew out the candle and went to bed, the time being near midnight. Just as I was falling asleep I heard a heavy tramping noise coming round the square on the platforms, and I was out of bed like a flash, cocked my gun, and waited developments. The heavy tramping came right on past my window but there was nothing visible, though the night was light enough to see the other buildings plainly. It may have been imagination, but as the noise passed the window I thought I could detect a draught of cold air. Well it is no use disguising the fact that I felt creepy, but just then I thought of my dogs. The noise in the meantime had stopped, so I waited quietly for a repetition, and this came in a few minutes. The same heavy tramping started apparently close to the main fort entrance, then along past the Penican store, then turning and coming right in front of my window. With that I threw the front door open and set the dogs on it. Out they went with furious growls, and back they came again, hair bristling up, and evidently cowed, as they retreated into the corner and would make no response when I urged them out again. "Again, as I had followed them out, I could see nothing, but this time distinctly felt a cold draught air pass. The dogs either felt or saw something that scared them, and it may be the brute creation is more sensitive to non-visible aura's or whatever name it or they might be called than the human kind, or has civilization dulled our perceptive faculties.

It was several weeks before the new residence was ready for occupancy, and during this time I constantly heard the same heavy trappings and other noises, and there was no doubt the dogs were affected, as generally they were joyous creatures always ready to sport or play with me. However, as no ill-effects occurred, I became used to the racket and yet was glad enough after vacating the premises to put a torch to the old fort.

During the same winter a mysterious light accompanied me for some hours on Lake Manitoba, which by its presence, affected my fearless dogs in the same way, but this I have described fully in a former article, entitled Indian Witchcraft.

Automobile Price Reductions Of Western Interest

All-Canadian Car Proves Itself.—New Rock Levels Anticipate Quantity Reduction.

Western Canada development depends so much upon the extended use of motor cars that recent price reductions interest someone in practically every family in the West. That, for instance, of the new Overland to less than a thousand dollars at the Toronto factory is of wide importance.

New rock-bottom levels were calculated to be necessary if a complete return to normal conditions was to be accomplished. In the case of the company making the car cited, normal conditions involve factory production on a large scale.

This quantity production was attained last year. It will be remembered that when the Overland Company introduced the Model Four, the radical departure in spring suspension was looked upon as a marked development in light car construction. Much was, therefore, expected of this all-Canadian car. It has now had a year's proving by thousands of Canadian owners, who bought it for its appearance and its quite evident engine efficiency and comfort. They have found it also possessed of unexpectedly great stamina and economy. Getting 25 to 30 miles to the gallon of gasoline appears to be the average experience of owners—some reporting even 35 miles. Ten to fourteen thousand miles with a single set of tires is also common, so that the all-Canadian car has thoroughly proved itself, perhaps nowhere more than in Western Canada.

The 1921 car has many improvements and according to Willys-Overland officials, they expect a demand sufficient to keep the factories busy right along. In fact, it is stated that it is upon this expectation that they have based their new prices. Reports from both Winnipeg and Regina branches of this company show a marked stimulation in business during the very first month of the reductions.

New Marking Regulation A Guide To Purchasing Canadian Made Goods

"The marking of goods with their country of origin is going to have an excellent effect on British trade in Canada, and I only wish it could be brought into force earlier than September 1st," stated Capt. Evans J. Edwards, Senior British Trade Commissioner, Montreal, in reply to a request for his views on this important change in our importing system, to enable Canadian customers to know just what goods they are buying. "Examples of foreign goods masquerading as British or Canadian are continually being brought to my notice. Some of these deceptions are of no moment, and some are made innocently, such as the Japanese manufacturer who asks his goods with the word 'Nippon.' Nippon is their native word for Japan, but probably to most people it appears as the registered trade name of a Canadian or British maker.

"Other cases of improper marking are intentionally fraudulent," continued Capt. Edwards, "such as the marking of German manufactures with English names, and the names of English cities. I get not a few samples of German manufactures, for instance, with the name 'Sheffield' on them, as if they came from the celebrated cutlery centre. That is the rank kind of fraud, done deliberately to mislead buyers. At one time it was possible to detect the fraud, if one was acquainted with the appearance of German printing which, even in Roman type, is different to English; but some German printers have secured fonts of English type, so that means of detection goes, and as they have learned the need of using good English translators it is often not possible to see even from their catalogues where the goods were made.

"As the minister of finance remarked, in his budget speech, the Canadian public has a right to know from whom they are buying, and if you go into any store and ask for Canadian or British goods you will quickly find how hard it is to find them. In the ramifications of business, goods pass from one merchant to another, and finally to the retailer, who cannot possibly tell, in many cases, where the goods he has on his shelves were made.

"In Canada I like to buy Canadian goods, and do whenever I can find them, but it is at present very hard work to do so; and sometimes I accept things as Canadian which eventually turn out to be American manufacture. We have to support our own manufacturers, Canadian as well as British, since on them depends the livelihood of so many of us. The more foreign goods we buy, the less we can make ourselves, and the result, if persisted in, would be the extinction of British as well as Canadian manufacturing industry.

"When the marking regulations come into force all goods made abroad will be marked legibly in English or French with the names of the country they are made in, to prevent chance of injury. Some will be stamped, others branded, while things that cannot be so marked will bear labels. When the regulations are in full working order you will be able to tell Canadian goods because they will bear no country of origin marking. Imports, on the other hand, will all bear the necessary mark, and to ensure that they do so are, I understand, to be examined by Canadian Customs, and without any chance of the mark being altered here, after importation.

"For awhile British and other manufacturers abroad will experience some little confusion," said Capt. Edwards in conclusion, "and they will certainly be put to some expense in making arrangements for marking their product, but they recognize in the United Kingdom that it will be very much to their advantage in the long run, and are getting ready to comply with the Canadian requirements in this respect. Those who by accident or design neglect to mark their product as laid down will be quickly brought to book by Canadian Customs, who are to hold unmarked goods, mark them at the importers expense, and levy an extra duty of 10 per cent. on them."

Wear Your Clothes Longer

Buy Bully Beef and Dodge the Cost of High Living.

Retailers seem to have the best just now of the discussion as to the cost of living.

Butchers state and seem to be able to prove their case that many consumers who are objecting to the high prices of meat, refuse to consider any but the choicest cuts, so that the canny housewife gets the pick of most desirable meats, though not the most aristocratic joints, and feeds her household at almost pre-war prices.

It is noted by many provisioners that a good demand is coming up for corned beef in cans. The "bully beef" of the soldier, this wholesome and economical meat is selling in large quantities. Perhaps soldiers are lonesome for it! Despite this revived interest in cooked corned beef, it is far as yet from its pre-war sales.

Commenting on published statements of the cost of living, a well-known old country provisioner recently claimed that comparisons of prices were most misleading.

For instance even though sirloin steaks, formerly selling at 30c now fetch 50c, this does not increase the cost of living by 66 per cent. to the person who buys, as the latter is now sold at about pre-war prices. Moreover, adds this high authority, the same applies to many other items.

Take clothing for example, even if a suit costs 30 per cent. more, this does not increase the necessary expenditure 50 per cent. of one who is satisfied to wear his clothes longer.

In other words, at the present time, it is possible to live on much lower costs than the published figures of comparative prices would indicate.

So eat "Bully Beef," wear your old clothes and beat the cost of high living.

Buenos Aires Goes Into Business

Making Effort to Reduce High Cost of Living.

The municipal government of Buenos Aires has gone into the grocer and butcher business in an effort to decrease the high cost of living. The municipality is buying meat, vegetables, bread, sugar and other foodstuffs and placing them on sale in various markets throughout the city, at the same time publishing in the newspapers every morning the prices at which each article will be sold during the day and giving the location of the markets which have been stocked with municipal supplies.

For several months the municipality has been selling shoes and a few other articles of clothing for men, women and children in the city dispensary. Clothing prices have been declining recently, but the costs of foodstuffs are much higher than the municipal authorities think reasonable, and they hope to bring about a general lowering of these costs by underselling the trade.

Of Interest To Tourists

Do Not Require Passports As a Condition of Entry From U.S. to Canada.

The Canadian Pacific Railway announce they have received the following notice which has been recently issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization of the Dominion Government, which will be of special interest to tourists travelling between United States and Canada:

"Canada welcomes bona fide tourists and will extend every courtesy possible to such travellers in entering and leaving the Dominion. Tourists do not require passports as a condition of entry to Canada from the United States or as a condition of leaving Canada for the United States. Immigrants (i.e., persons coming to Canada to work or reside) are debarred if nationals of Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria or Turkey, but nationals of any of the countries mentioned are not debarred when belonging to a non-immigrant class such as tourists and travellers."

Experiments With Plants Result in Producing Rust Resisting Varieties

Polish Keepsakes To Be Returned

Have Been Preserved in Switzerland For 150 Years.

The Polish Government is arranging to return to Warsaw about 150,000 national keepsakes removed to Switzerland in 1771 to prevent their falling into enemy hands.

When the partition of Poland between Prussia, Russia and Austria became imminent, patriotic Poles began to transfer collections of national relics to Reppervelle, Switzerland, where they have been preserved for nearly 150 years.

Individuals who managed to get articles of particular historical value made additions to the collection from time to time, long after the Russians were in control of what is known as Congress Poland.

Among the relics of olden times is a sceptre of one of the Polish kings. The keepsakes are to be added to the national museum in Warsaw which has been established now that Poland has regained her freedom.

Shipping B.C. Berries to England.

At the request of shippers of British Columbia, an investigation has been made by the Canadian Trade Commissioner in London, England, as to the possibilities of selling raspberries and strawberries to English jam manufacturers. Great interest was evinced in the project, experimental shipments will be made, and there is strong possibility of a substantial trade being built up in shipping berries in a frozen condition to the overseas jam market.

Whisper slander to your best friend, and though you stand on a hill the next day and proclaim in a loud voice that it is not true, you cannot call the bad story back.

Certain diseases of plants have been successfully combatted by the production of resistant varieties. This is the case with flax wilt, cabbage yellows, melon-wilt, etc.

A systematic effort has been made to secure and test every variety of wheat for which rust resistance has been claimed anywhere. In addition, I have tested hundreds of varieties from nearly every wheat growing country of the world. The tests were made not only in the field over a series of years, but also in the greenhouse where the plants were inoculated artificially and where conditions can be made much more favorable for rust development than in the field.

Out of all the varieties treated less than a dozen showed true resistance, and of these none are of commercial value for other reasons unless it be one or two of the macaroni type whose drawbacks are familiar. Practically all the resistant varieties are durum or emmer. No consistently resistant bread wheats have been found.

When resistant varieties were first secured, crossing experiments were at once begun. Without going into details it may be said that we showed conclusively that resistance was transmitted in crosses and appeared in a certain proportion of the second generation hybrids. At least eight-ninths of the second generation plants are wholly susceptible and many show intermediate grades of resistance. In one series of experiments, for example, 214 second generation hybrids were quite susceptible, while only 21 were resistant. It was also conclusively shown that the resistance present in a few of the hybrids was combined with many at least of the good qualities of the standard variety with which the cross had been made.

The production of good resistant varieties appeared therefore to be merely a question of making enough crosses and raising enough hybrid plants to secure the one resistant plant which would have all the other desirable qualities. It was recognized that this would be a big task because of the small percentage of resistant hybrids and because of the small percentage of these resisters which would possess the desirable qualities of the standard parent. Very large numbers were raised and tested and already in 1919 hybrids had been secured which were quite resistant here at Saskatoon and which at the same time looked very good in regard to the other qualities.

The prospects were completely changed by a very interesting but very disappointing discovery. We had found that pure varieties which had proved resistant for several years had suddenly appeared quite susceptible. We had supposed that this was due to some defect in our work—some unknown lack of precautions. But in 1919 it occurred again for one of our best strains had several of our hybrids. It then became probable and since has been abundantly proved that the discrepancies were due to different strains of rust-strains which differ only in the virulence of their attacks on particular varieties of wheat. —By Prof. W. P. Thompson, University of Saskatchewan.

Byng of Vimy

New Governor-General Possesses Tact and Good Sense.

Why should Hon. Charles Murphy doubt the ability of Lord Byng to perform his duties as governor-general of Canada because he is a military man? Lord Minto was a military man, and he was a very good governor-general both in Canada and in India; and that good old soldier, the Duke of Connaught, was one of the best governor-generals we ever had in Canada. Experience in statecraft and diplomatic skill are not required in a governor-general so much as tact and good sense, and Byng of Vimy has shown that he possesses these good qualities in abundance. —Hamilton Herald.

Fisheries Production

Dominion Fisheries In 1920 Show a Marked Decrease.

The fisheries production of Canada for the year 1920 reached a value of $49,321,217, according to a return just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This showed a decrease of $7,000,000 from the previous year. British Columbia's fishing industry accounted for $23,300,000 of the total, and that in Nova Scotia, $12,700,000.

Salmon is by far Canada's most important fish, the lobster coming second, and cod, halibut and herring in the order named. Nearly $2,000,000 worth of white fish were marketed.

Storing Apples in Gas

New System Said to be Superior to Cold Storage.

In storing apples there is a very interesting alternative to cold storage, known as "gas storage." The apples are placed in an airtight chamber filled with the gas produced by the "respiration" of the apples themselves. An electrical instrument is used to determine whether at any time the proportion of carbon dioxide in this gas becomes excessive, and when that condition occurs air is admitted to dilute the gas. The air is kept in slow circulation by its own temperature variations and means are taken to remove excess of moisture. It is stated that this system doubles the time during which apples can be kept in good condition, and that the cost of working is very much below that of any kind of cold storage. The merits of the system are being closely studied by the British Investigation Board.

Growers in B.C. Can Build Up Large Business.

Recently 5,000 tons of Cascara bark was shipped from Vancouver to British and United States markets. Reports from the United States drug centres say that a great industry awaits the growers of Cascara shrubs and Cascara bark on the British Columbia sea coast.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. Circulars free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Boston Or Bust.

A lecturer in Boston told his audience that the earth is 360,000,000,000 miles away from the centre of the universe. That was a very nervy thing to say in a town which calls itself the hub.—Detroit Free Press.

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Earnest Clark, Police Officer, 338 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine relieved me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."

World Happenings Briefly Told

Prisoners in Denver County Jail gave the money they had saved for cigarettes and food to the relief fund for Pueblo, Colo., flood sufferers.

Robert E. Tegler, an old-timer of Edmonton, and sole owner of the Tegler Block, the largest building in Edmonton, died recently.

When plates of ice cream were served to the 1,700 immigrants at Ellis Island, N.Y., the diners thought it a new kind of butter and spread it over their bread.

If both parties, by mutual consent, break an engagement to marry, the man is entitled to the engagement ring, an Ashbury Park, N.J., court ruled.

Gambling in long distance telephone calls is the latest industry in France. The number of phones is so inadequate that speculators have been buying up long distance calls in advance and holding them to retail at fabulous prices.

Nation-wide Fame.—There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil have not been tried and proved. It is one of the world's most efficient remedies for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

Arctic Explorer Returns

Amundsen is Back After Winter With Icebound Steamer.

Captain Amundsen arrived at Nome, Alaska, recently. His ship, the Maud, which wintered at Cape Serge, Siberia, lost her propeller in the ice, and she is expected to reach Nome some time this summer for repairs. The explorer, noted for his discovery of the South Pole, and his many Arctic and Antarctic voyages, said he would continue his efforts next year to reach the North Pole by drifting with Arctic ice floes as soon as repairs to his vessel were completed. He spent the winter on board the Maud with one native and three white companions, and said the party experienced few vicissitudes. He reached Nome on the trading schooner Herman, which picked him up at East Cape, Siberia.

Useful in Camp.—Explorers, surveyors, prospectors and hunters will find Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles, and should a cut, or contusion, or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

DISCOVERED TRUE REMEDY FOR SYSTEMATIC CATARRH

A bad case of Catarrh is not an easy thing to treat, and a remedy that makes good, deserves great credit. Catarrhzone certainly fixed up Chas. H. Webb, who writes from Woodstock: "For a number of years I was troubled with Systematic Catarrh. Nothing helped me very much. I used Catarrhzone Inhaler and got relief. To build up my system, I used Ferrozone. This combination can't be beaten. They made me well." Your case may also be bad, but Catarrhzone will do for you what it did for Mr. Webb. Two months treatment $1.00, small size 50c. All dealers or the Catarrhzone Co., Montreal.

ALMOST HELPLESS FROM ST. VITUS DANCE

The Muscles of the Hands, Face and Body Affected.

St. Vitus dance is a disease of the nerves brought on by a morbid condition of the blood. It is common with children, and attacks girls more frequently than boys. Irritability is frequently one of the first signs noted. The child frets, is quarrelsome and does not sleep well. The jerky movements that characterize the disease come a little later. The limbs and sometimes the whole body jerks spasmodically, and in severe cases the power of speech is affected. Such a child should not be allowed to study, but should be kept quiet, given a nutritious diet, remain out of doors as much as possible. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help the blood restore the shattered nerves. The value of these pills in cases of this kind is shown by the following statement from Mrs. Frank Reynolds, Windsor, N.S., who says: "When a young girl I suffered very severely from St. Vitus' dance. I could not keep still for a moment. If I tried to handle dishes I broke them, and could not safely attempt to hold a thing in my hands. No matter what was done for me I could not control the twitching in my face and body. My parents gave me several remedies, but they did not help me. Then one day my father brought home a half dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After two boxes had been taken there was an improvement in my condition. By the time the last box was gone, to my own great joy and relief to our family, my condition was normal, and I have since enjoyed good health. I never lose an opportunity to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Summer Frock Of Batiste

By Marie Belmont.

This charming dress is one that you could easily copy if you are at all gifted in the dressmaking line. The fabric from which it is evolved is a rose colored embroidered batiste which is extremely dainty. The bodice is cut on rather long-waisted lines that follow closely the lines of the figure. The skirt is unusually full and is finished with a scalloped hem. This is outlined with rose linen bands that are exceedingly fashionable. They are also used with equally good effect on the short sleeves and the neckline. A vestee of lace and a rose ribbon girdle complete this pleasing creation.

Lake Stocked With Fish.

The Dominion Fisheries Branch report during the season just closed shows that upward of 268,000,000 young whitefish were liberated in the Great Lakes and the Lake of the Woods. A large proportion of the eggs are secured from the commercial catch of fish which, but for activities of the department, would be wasted. The Sarnia hatchery this season sent 12,825,000 whitefish eggs to British Columbia.
